IRISH FREE STATE BILL

QUICK PASSAGE URGENT.

LONDON, February 16. In the House of Commons, Mr. Winstein Churchill moved the second reading of the Irish Free State Bill. He emphasised the urgency of legali ing the powers of the Provisional Government and enabling if to hold an election at the earliest without legil anthority was an anomaly unprecedented in the Hi tory of the Empire, -(Ironical Unionist) cheers). It was most desirable that the Irish people at in obsertion should definitely reject the idea of a re-f. public and secure an adequate constituent assembly! representing the future lope not the past hate as the ore out parliament did. Delay in the passage of the bill would mean further anarchy and bloodshel.

PASSERS OPTION. Parliament would possibly frame a constitution in May or June at er which the Imperial Parliament would pass and happiness. ontomatory legislation. The next step was Ulster's consideration of the constitution before exercising its Harding in appreciation of Mr. Balfour's assistance. option to enter the free State. There was a difference likely that the boundary commission would begin its problems, the Pacific question, and naval disarmament of work before October. The recent discus ion between Sir I James Craig and Mr. Mehael Collins on the boundary sinestion was obviously premature, but Mr. Churchill denied that agreement had broken down. There had been a bad setback but the situation was being repair d and restored.

ULSTER AMENDMENT.

Captain Charles Craig moved as Ulster amendment declining to proceed with the bill until provision for establishing the boundary commission, which was a violation of the rights of Ulster, had been clumnated or the decision of the commission made subject to approve al by the Northern Parliament. He declared that if the the Washington decisions with a view to further commission made unvibing more than the minutest! changes bloodshed and chaos were inevitable.

Mr. D. D. Reid seconded the motion.

attitude by the parties towards the treaty since ratifica tion. The Attorney General, who avoided attempting Imperial Defence Committee. The views expressed in wording of the treaty regarding the commission, said a gentleman of ripe judicial experience would be appointed chairman.

IMPARTIAL CLONES INQUIRY. LONDON, February 16.

In the House of Commons Mr. Church'll announced that 26 kidnapp d persons had been released by the exertions of the Provisional Government.

Mr. Churchill read the Northern Governmen's report on the Clones affair which conflicted with the Provisional Government's report. He had communicated with both governments and both considered an impartial enquiry desirable. He had therefore notified them that the Imperial Government would place at their disposal a judicial officer agreeable to both to hold a public enquiry.

GENOA CONFERENCE INTRIGUE.

FRANCE'S PRORUSSIAN WAVE.

Paris, February 16.

Fro Russian propaganda in France has received a severe rebuff from the Temps which commenting on M Krass n's suggestions for negotiations with France independently of the Genoa Conference, says that the diplomacy of Moscow is reminiscent of Abdul Hamidei and declares that Russia's recognition of her debts, and guarantees for foreigners and the currying out of the moment. He was constantly speaking they think may assist them in their of the need of athletic training in our schools here and the influence for should be granted. good which such training must have upon the Chinese.

As Governor Sir Henry May did what he thought right whether his policy was popular or the reverse. "Some of you will remember that during the War he allowed the public. drawing of War bonds in spite of the law against lotteries, and when a protest was made he replied that the object justifies the means. That seems to me to have been characteristic of Sir Henry May. When he had made up his mind that a certain thing was right and desirable he would let rothing deter him from achieving that object.

Sir Henry May was a blave man. Many of them would remember the attempt to assassinate bim when he landed here—an attempt which very nearly proved successful—and the coolness with which he conducted himself afterwards. He had not only physical courage, but he had what was much rarer, moral courage. He was not afraid to say and do things which might make him unpopular, if he believed that those things ought to be said and done.

As an instance there were the remarks he made at the occasion of the opening of the Tai Tam Tuk reservoir when he was most outspoken on the were a couple of seconds behind subject of alcohol and used words which were very unpopular at the LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL.

THREE BILLS PASSED.

In the Legislative Council yesterday afternoon, after our report of the meeting had closed Bills amending further the Volunteer Ordinance, modifying certain provisions of Treaty of Peace Orders and amending the Maintenance Orders (Facilities for Enforcement) Ordinance were passed and the first reading of a Bill to amend further the Opium Ordinance. 1914, was carried.

In moving the first reading of a Bill intituled an Ordinance to provide fer police supervision of certain persons, the Attorney General said : The object of the Bill is to provide for police supervision of persons who have been convicted of crimes of a certain class and other suspected and dangerous parsons. The Bill is based on the English Prevention of Crimes Act, 1871; and it deals with two classes of persons: first of all, those convicted twice of crime, as defined by the Bill, and, secondly, those who go before the Governor in Council on deportation proceedings. The Bill defines crime in a somewhat narrow way but that definition is based on the definition in the English Act. Any person convicted twice of any crime included in the definition may be ordered to be placed under police. supervision for a period of years,-two years upon summary conviction and seven years upon conviction after indictment before the Supreme Court. The Bill provides that persons hable to deportation, or who would be liable if they were not British subjects, may be ordered by the Governor in Council to undergo police supervision for any period not exceeding seven years. It is quite possible that, in some cases, that may take the place of deportation and it would be especially useful in the case of persons whom it is not possible, on account of nationality, to deport. Persons under police supervision have to report their changes of address to the police and male persons have to report personally once each month to the most convenient police station. The Bill has been asked for by the police and I think that anything in reason which difficult task of combating crime

After the Colonial Secretary had seconded the Bill was read a first time Subsequently the Council adjourned to next Thursday.

FATE OF MONUMENTS.

AN ANGLO-AMERICAN BOND.

Let those who cry for more monuments in Hongkong consider the fate of some we have. There is an old monolith ." the monument" of our funeral notices at the cross roads in Happy Valley. Do you know what it is for, what its inscription says? Perhaps you may, because it is customary to wait there for funerals you wish to 66 Th attend. There is another between Wantsai Market and Morrison Hill, marking the terminus of Queen's Road East, which may to a dinner-table conundrum, even if your guests be all old residents. PACIFIC TREATY.

SENATE'S REQUEST.

WASHINGTON, February 16. The Senate has passed a resolution asking President Harding for ful information regarding the negotiation for the Pacific treaty.

LATER.

Senators Lodge and Underwood, both members of the American delega tion, assured the Senate there was nothing to conceal, Senator Underwood explained that a great part of the negotiations concerning the abrogation of the Anglo-Japanese alliance would not be found in the minutes as the subject was mostly discussed in informal conversation.

Replying to S nator Hitchcock's remark that the Senate and House of Representatives seemed to have been on the outsid. while the four-power pack was worked out. Senator Lodge said that the maversations were between the heads of the delegations as that was the simplest way of dealing with so delicate a situation but the treaty was fully discussed by the American delegates long before it was submitted to the other delegations.

AMERICA'S WAR CONTINGENT.

AGITATION OVER BONUS PROPOSAL.

WASHINGTON, February 16. Intense agitation has been evoked throughout the country by the proposal to give a bonus to soldiers who participated in the war which it is arrangement. Amongst those who estimated will cost five milliard dollars

President Harding has informed Congress that he considered a general signed a receipt in full a ttlement was sales tax the only feasible means of raising funds for this bonus. Otherwise he was of opinion that it would be was to postpone the linus until co.ditions would justify the outlay.

AMERICA'S RHINE FORCES.

FURTHER REDUCTIONS ANNOUNCED.

OUR EGYPTIAN POLICY.

COMPLETE AGREEMENT.

LONDON, February 16. Conversations between Mr. Lloyd George, Lord Curzou a d General Allenby have led to complete agreement regarding the policy to be pursued the plaintiff. in Egypt and a letter is to be presented to the Egyptian Government.

CONTRACTOR AND SUB-CONTRACTOR.

A COMPOSITION QUERY.

Judgment for the defendant was given by the Puisne Judge (Mr. Justice Gompertz) at the Summary Court to day in the case in which Li Yun Ker sued Li Wah Hing (alias Li Hing), trading as the On Hing firm for the balance due for work done by him as sub-contractor to the defendaut.

The amount claimed was $542.56. The defence was that on the eve of Chinese New Year there was an informal meeting of the defendant's creditors at which he announced that he had no funds but had managed to borrow $2,000 out of which he proposed to pay his creditors about 20 % of the amount of their claims, aggregating roughly $10,000, if they would agree to take it in full satisfaction. that if this indicated was refused he would file his petition in bankruptcy. At first the offer was not accepted and there were many complaints but finally all except one creditor agreed to the received their share of the money and the plaintiff's son who acted as his father's representative. His Honour observed that there was a certain conflict of evidence which, on the main points, he was prepared to decide in the defendant's favour A point taken by Mr. Russ (plaintiff's solicitor) in " his very able argument" was that unless every creditor come in, the composidiscussing cases quoted on the point, held that in the present instance all the creditors but one agreed in the end and there was thus ample consideration for the agreement. On the evidence moreover it was clear that those creditors who accepted payment and signed the receipt knew when they did so that two of their number declined to come in.

Referring to certain other points which had cropped up His Honour declared that there was no taint of fraud for he was quite satisfied that every creditor understood what was being done and acquiesced in it.

Judgment was given for the defendant with costs. Mr. H. C. Macnamara (Deacon, Looker, Deacon and Harston) appeared for the defendant and Mr. C. A. S Russ (Lee and Russ) for

FRENCH BANK REPORT.

SHAREHOLDER'S ATTITUDE. Parts, February 16. The Senate Finance Committee has considered M. Jennerey's report upon the Banque Industrielle de Chine bill which recommends the adoption in its entirety of the text proposed by the government and voted by the Chamber of Deputies. It is stated in parliamentary circles that associations of shareholders of the Banque are being formed to take concerted action in refusing to pay the last two quarters instalments due on their shures. It is suggested they will be supported by the Peking Syndicate which holds 17,000 shares and by the National Italian Bank which holds 8,700. It is expected both these banks will appeal to the laws of their respective countries in support of refusal to most any further call.
